

The logo for Med@Tel features a stylized globe icon on the left, composed of orange and grey curved segments. To its right, the word "Med" is written in a grey, sans-serif font. A red '@' symbol follows, and the word "Tel" is written in a grey, sans-serif font. The entire text is underlined with a grey line that has a step-like break at the end.

Med@Tel

18-20 April 2007

THE INTERNATIONAL EDUCATIONAL AND NETWORKING FORUM FOR eHEALTH, TELEMEDICINE AND HEALTH ICT

www.medetel.lu

Supported by

Venue

Main Media Partner

eHealth and Telemedicine applications worldwide are at a critical growth phase. Med-e-Tel offers unmatched opportunities to meet and network with qualified buyers, specialists, users, researchers, policy makers, and payers/insurers from 50 countries around the world.

Med-e-Tel provides visitors with hands-on experience and an opportunity to discover and evaluate new products, systems and technologies and to hear about the latest eHealth/Telemedicine news and trends.

Med-e-Tel features an extensive educational and conference program with more than 120 presentations and workshops on topics that matter to your daily business, research and care activities.

Topics will include a.o.:

- personal and in-home monitoring
- use of ICTs in independent living for the ageing and disabled
- disease management and medication compliance
- maximizing the potential of ehealth in developing countries
- funding opportunities for ehealth programs and projects
- interoperability and standardization
- wireless and broadband applications
- satellite communication
- and more ...

Additional events being planned in conjunction with Med-e-Tel 2007, include meetings and workshops by some of the following organizations:

- International Society for Telemedicine & eHealth
- International Association of Homes and Services for the Ageing / Center for Aging Services Technologies
- European Commission & European eHealth Projects
- World Health Organization
- European Telecommunications Standards Institute
- Telemedicine and Advanced Technology Research Center
- World Academy of Biomedical Technologies
- United Nations Office for Outer Space Affairs
- Centre de Recherche Public – Santé

Who should attend?

- hospital directors, CIO's, department heads
- homecare service providers
- nursing/rehab facility directors
- manufacturers (medical/healthcare, IT, telecom, electronics)
- distributors, agents
- researchers
- health insurance providers, mutualities
- government representatives
- international authorities
- funding agencies, financial services

When & Where?

18-20 April 2007

Luxexpo Exhibition & Congress Center
Luxembourg

Med-e-Tel is an international event. Participants from 80 countries around the world have already attended past editions of Med-e-Tel.

For registration, exhibition and sponsorship applications, conference program, hotel and travel information, newsletter subscription and more, go to: www.medetel.lu